Introduction

Lantra Awards is a wholly owned subsidiary of Lantra Sector Skills Council and is an Awarding Body specialising in qualifications and training for the environment and land-based sector.

Lantra Awards has developed a wide variety of short courses – Technical Awards – which aim to encourage safe working practices, reduce risk and avoid accidents when using potentially dangerous machinery and equipment. Two types of Technical Awards are offered, Non Assessed or Integrated Training and Assessment (ITA).

Lantra Awards courses are only available from Lantra Awards approved centres (e.g. training providers, corporate providers, colleges, HE institutions) who have met quality based entry criteria and who have agreed to comply with the Lantra Awards Code of Practice. Lantra Awards has also developed quality criteria for instructors who wish to deliver Lantra Awards courses. These criteria reflect the skills required for delivering a course on a particular subject or for a particular piece of machinery or equipment.

Approved centres can only book instructors to deliver Technical Awards courses if the instructor is approved by Lantra Awards to deliver that course. Details of approved centres are made available to the public and other centres or instructors through the Lantra Awards website or by contacting the Lantra Awards Customer Service Department.

Please note that Lantra Awards does not employ instructors or centres. Approved centres organise courses for their customers and handle all bookings, including booking an instructor for running the course. When approved centres book a course, Lantra Awards issues the appropriate number of candidate workbooks, handouts and assessment forms (ITA only) for courses. After the course has taken place, completed paperwork is returned to Lantra Awards for certificates and skills identity cards to be issued to successful candidates.

This booklet provides information about the criteria for approval for Technical Awards centres and instructors, existing instructors wishing to add skills to their remit and the Lantra Awards Code of Practice.

Quality Assurance

Lantra Awards supports newly approved centres by providing training/induction sessions, either as a group session or on an individual basis. Approved centres are actively encouraged to attend all update events arranged by Lantra Awards as they contain essential information. Dates are publicised through Lantra Awards e-bulletins and on the website www.lantra-awards.co.uk.

To maintain approval, centres must maintain the criteria and re-new their membership on an annual basis.

Approved Centres may be subject to audit visits by Lantra Awards periodically. Whilst audit visits are normally arranged with the centre, we reserve the right to audit any centre against the code of practice without prior notice. If you would like to see the criteria by which centres are monitored contact the Quality and Standards Monitoring Team or email monitoring@lantra-awards.co.uk

Lantra Awards currently accepts as evidence of instructional techniques a broad range of awards/qualifications. However, in order to facilitate access to instructional techniques a small number of training providers have been identified to deliver short courses that prepare instructors to deliver Lantra Awards courses. These training providers both offer two courses and instructors are advised to consider which of these best suits their needs.

(1) Instructional Techniques

Completion of this course is currently accepted by Lantra Awards as evidence of instructional techniques as it provides the necessary grounding in this subject and adequately prepares instructors to deliver Lantra Awards courses. Please note however that this award may not be accepted as sufficient evidence of instructional techniques by some training providers (such as colleges or others that access public funding who will require the below as a minimum).

(2) Instructional Techniques (including Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector – PTLLS)

Completion of this course is currently accepted by Lantra Awards as evidence of instructional techniques. This course also includes access to PTLLS, and those who attend this course and successfully complete the assessment for PTLLS (including completion of a portfolio) will achieve a qualification recognised as the national minimum standard and required as a minimum by some training providers, in particular those that access public funding.

It should be noted that instructional techniques and PTLLS courses can be accessed via a large number of local training providers across the country, including many colleges. The delivery and assessment of instructional techniques and PTLLS is not therefore exclusive to Lantra Awards.

Approval and Quality Assurance Model for Instructors

*Corporate/College QA currently being piloted

Approval (Explanatory notes)

After the minimum criteria has been met by the applicant a robust Telephone Interview will be conducted by a Technical Standards Verifier (TSV) that provides the opportunity to discuss the applicant's industry experience and knowledge of the skill area indicated. Based on the application (and supporting evidence) submitted and the telephone interview the TSV will then make a recommendation to Lantra Awards as to which route of approval the instructor would be best suited to as outlined below.

Route 1

- Observation -a TSV will visit to observe the instructor delivering a non-Lantra Awards course. This is to ensure that the instructor is sufficiently competent in both their skill area and in their instructional technique.

Route 2

- A one-to-one Technical Evaluation is carried out by a TSV in order to confirm that the applicant has the required level of technical skill and the necessary depth and breadth of knowledge in the relevant subject area.
- Co-teach is where the instructor will be required to observe the TSV delivering a course and then be expected to deliver part of the course whilst being assessed by the TSV.

The above two routes will also require instructors to attend an Instructor Induction Event. This event will be a one day classroom based event comprising a detailed introduction into the administration procedures and standards required of a Lantra Awards instructor. Instructors will be issued with a welcome pack at this event containing; approval certificate, skills index, instructor manuals, risk assessment forms and all explanatory notes and documentation needed.

Route 3

- Technical Evaluation (as above)
- The Technical Standards Course is subject-specific and sets the standard for delivery of Lantra Awards courses by combining the pre-requisite Instructional Techniques skills with the technical expertise demonstrated in the Technical Evaluation. One day of this event will be dedicated as an Instructor Induction Event (as specified above)

All three routes are subject, at any point, to an action plan specified in the detailed forms completed for each type of event.

Final Approval

Once full payment has been received, all specified criteria has been met and approval process is complete (including any actions specified as appropriate) then new instructors will be made available to our network of centres.

N.B. Lantra Awards does not promote or advertise instructors to the public. We maintain their standards of approval through quality assurance to provide a list of highly skilled and expert instructors to deliver Lantra Awards courses through Lantra Awards approved centres. This list is made freely available to the full network of approved centres unless otherwise requested by the Instructor under the data protection options.

Existing Instructors wishing to add additional skills

After approval, if instructors wish to add additional skills to their portfolio they would receive a telephone interview specific to the skill area they wish to instruct. The Technical Standards Verifier would make a recommendation at this stage as to the requirements needed for approval. There is a short formal application form to be completed when instructors wish to add skills and this can be downloaded from our website www.lantra-awards.co.uk under the section entitled How do I become....!. Alternatively contact The Approval Teams to request a form approvals@lantra-awards.co.uk

See Annex A on page 17 for fees involved in instructors adding skills.

Quality Assurance (Explanatory Notes)

Technical Training Audit Visits

The quality assurance model requires that each instructor must have a Technical Training Audit Visit by a Technical Standards Verifier (TSV) and/or External Verifier (EV) for each (grouped) skill area every three years following approval. This involves TSVs visiting courses in progress in order to monitor instructors. Training Audit Visits are conducted on a one-to-one basis and are intended to ensure that instructors are competent in both their skill area and in their instructional technique, both of which are observed during the visit.

Training Audit Visits may result in no actions at all for the instructor. However as a result of this visit an action plan may require the instructor to attend one of the following events:-

- Instructional Techniques Training (ITT) Refresher (refresher training on instructional techniques)
- Technical Standards Setting Event (this could be a one to one event with a TSV similar to the technical evaluation event or may be part of a group event dependent on number of instructors needing to attend)

Where an instructor is identified as particularly high risk, i.e. a danger to self, trainees or the public then he/she is likely to be suspended. The TSV will indicate at the Technical Training Audit Visit if the instructor is to be suspended until completion of the action plan or whether the instructor can continue to instruct within completion of a specified timescale and actions.

Updates

The QA model requires that each instructor attends updates for skill areas as and when these are required. Whether these are mandatory or optional will be communicated at the time. Updates are intended to ensure that instructors are kept abreast of any industry changes to their skill area, legislation, new machinery, working practices etc. Updates are attended by groups of instructors and are usually offered regionally. Where possible, updates are delivered through other means such as electronic mailings etc.
